Brendy,

I realize you don't want me to make a mess all over your yearbook and I'd better not say too much because you live just a few houses from me and your dad is bigger than me, and I want to hold onto my head awhile longer and not have it beat off.

Kirt Green

Brenda,
Since 7th grade, it's been a lot of fun. You're really cute and sweet. Stay out of trouble and you'll go far.
Luv,

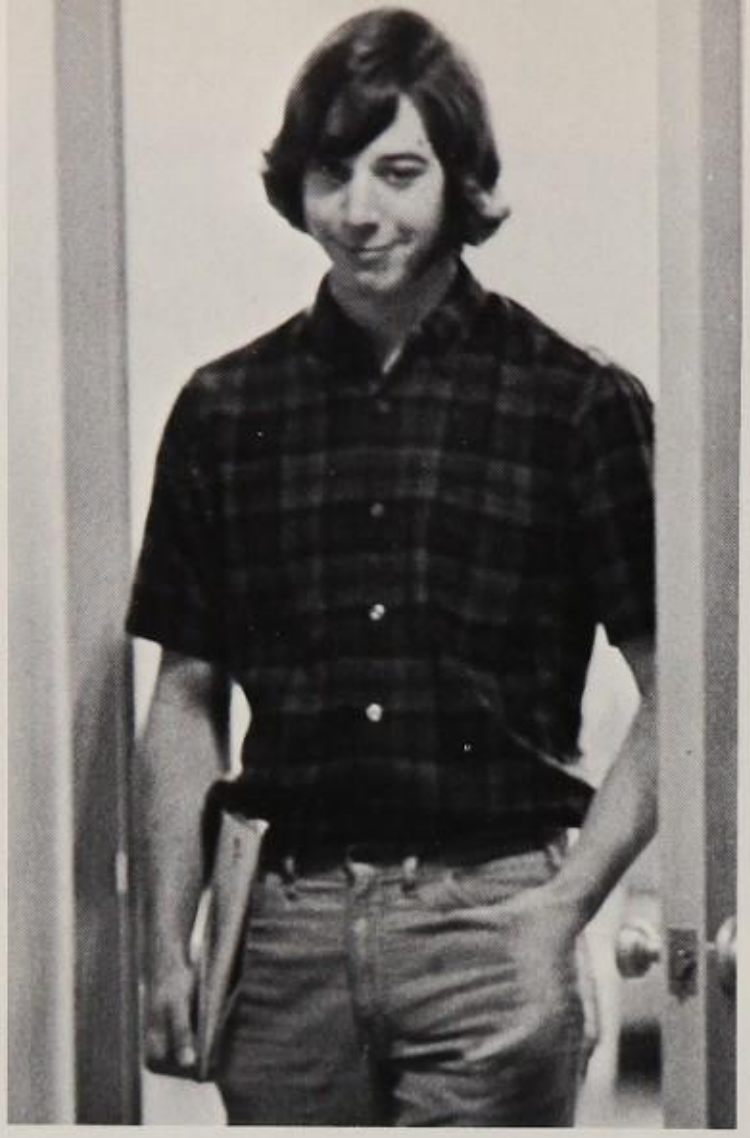
ACTIVITIES



ASB President Jim Garrison.

1969—1970 is a Year of Revision in Student

BELOW LEFT: Speaker of the House Marc Soriano. BELOW CENTER: ASB Vice President Mark Bratonia; Secretary Susan Horch. BELOW RIGHT: ASB Treasurer Dave Soule.

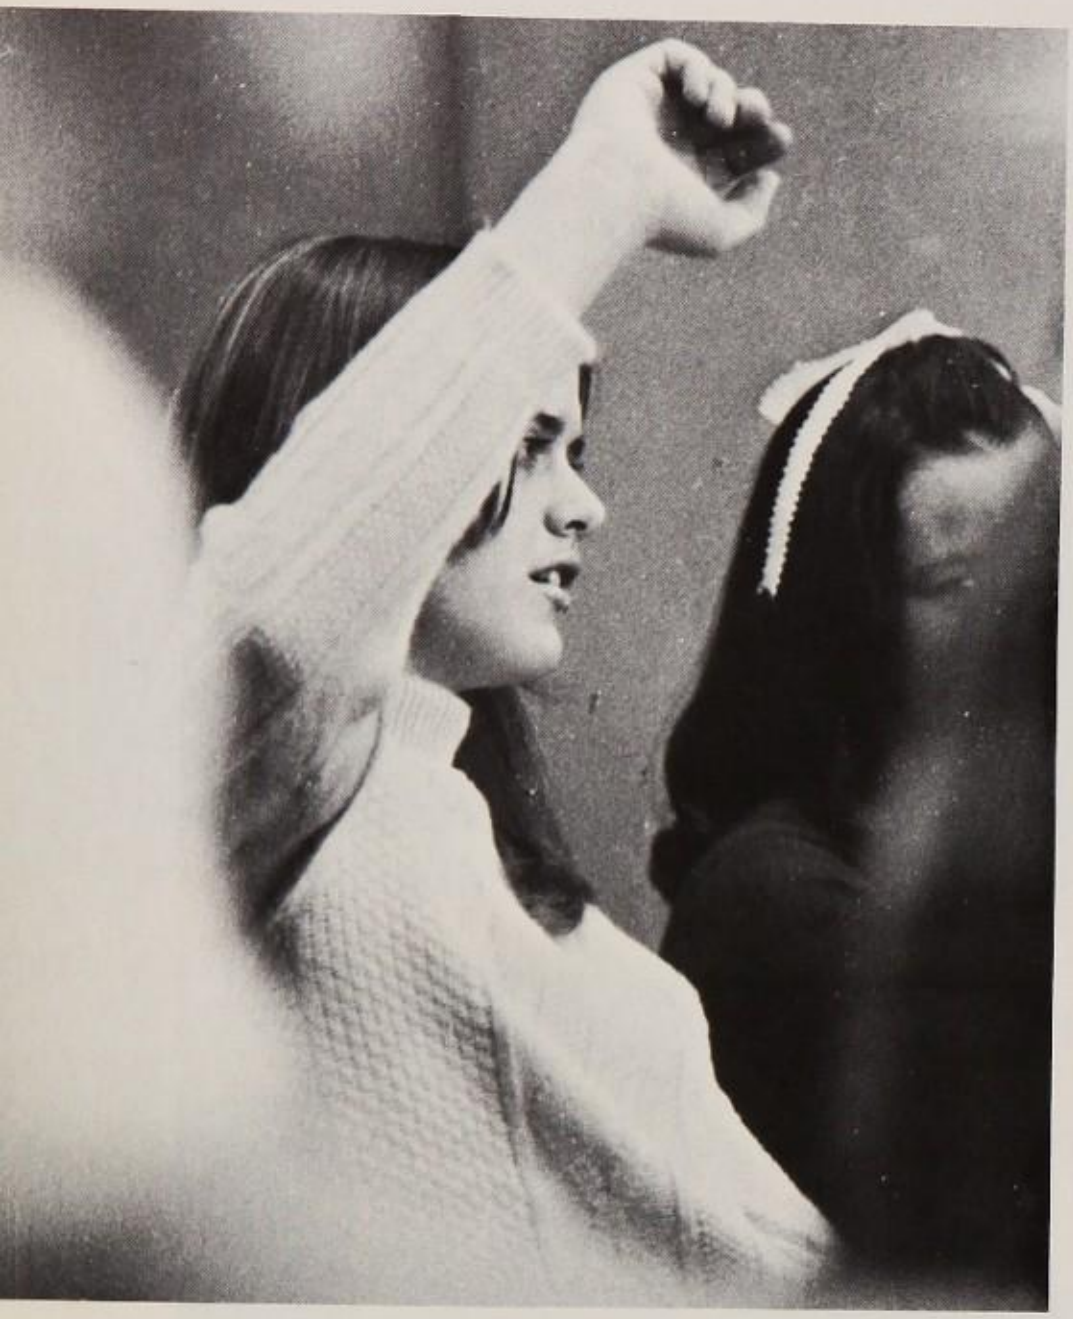
Government

ASB government at East was a highly emotional issue. Its effectiveness was a question brought up throughout the year. School board representatives, constitutional revision, and wearing of pants by girls were but a few of the many concerns voiced by the student body.

BELOW: Executive Council: T. Risinger, C. McKenzie, E. Johnson, M. Marty, M. Bergstrom D. Soule, M. Kluth, S. Horch, M. Soriano, J. Garrison, M. Bratonia, B. Miller, B. Boden, S. Wilson, J. Trostad, M. Fowler, R. Ranger, D. Knott.

Controversial Issues Are Raised In House



Senior voting, the dress code, food drives, sponsoring orphans, and constitutional changes were topics that were brought to the House of Representatives this year. Student representatives took an active part in debate and decided policies for many issues. The House decided that school board-student government relations could be improved by having student representatives to the school board. As a result of this decision, two students were elected to this newly-created office.

LEFT: Jan Bartlett waited to express her opinion. BELOW: As Speaker of the House, Marc Soriano conducted the frequent House meetings.

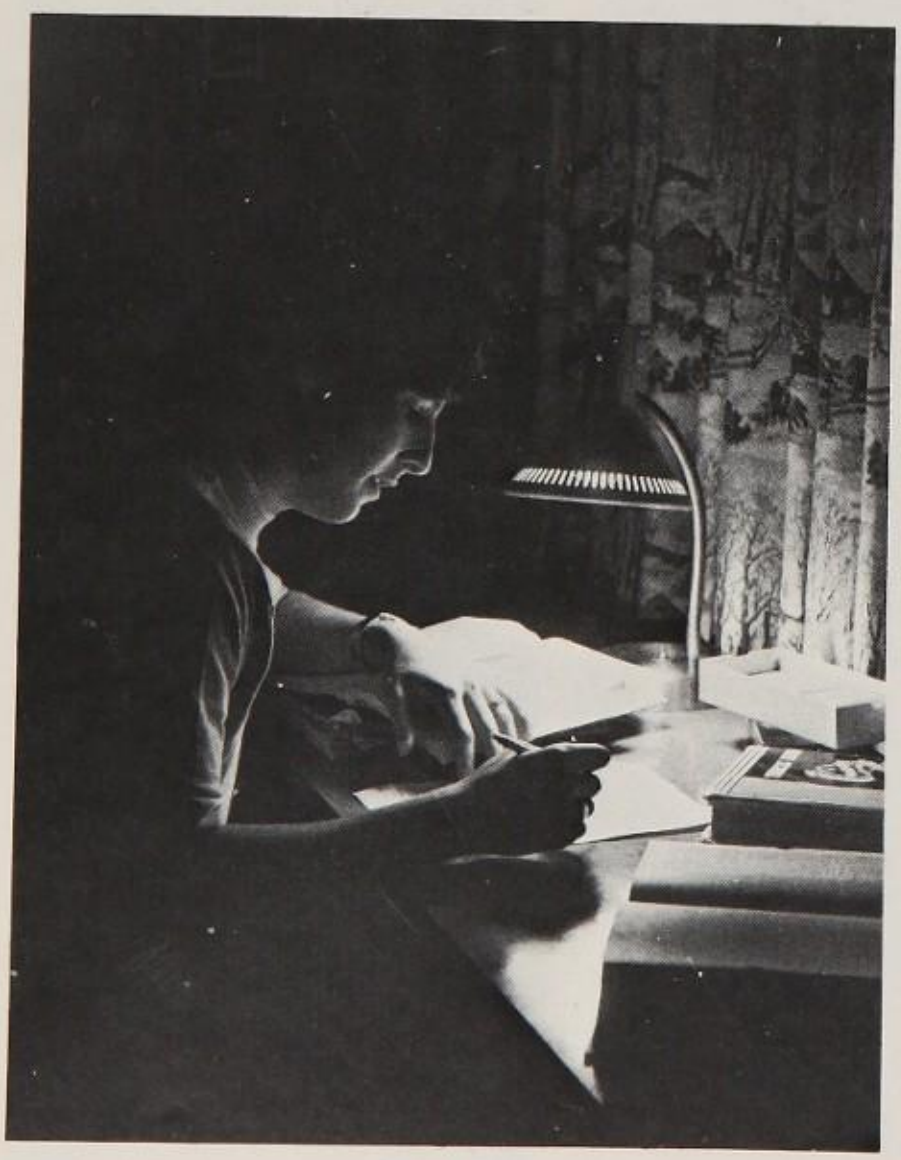
Chopp, J. Johnson, C. Kollars, B. Sokolowsky, D. Henderson.

Students Strive for Honors



Long hours of study accompanied by undying effort constituted the mien of National Honor Society members. Each of these members was required to maintain a grade point average of 3.2 for each semester. These students not only spent hours of rumination over books, but also contributed significantly to the activities of East High School.

LEFT: Mark McDaniel spent long, dark hours studying for finals. BELOW: Bob Machinski, Bob Miles, and Sharon Gardner earned honors as National Merit semi-finalists.

Record Number Attain Scholar Status

Among the senior National Honor students are those who have received a cumulative 3.5 grade point average during their four years at East. Thus, they have achieved the honor of being named top senior scholars for the graduating class of 1970.

Girls' Club Promotes Many Activities

With the advice of Mrs. Connie Spitzer, the new cabinet advisor, the 1969-1970 Girls' Club Cabinet worked diligently on many worthwhile projects. East High's three foreign students were greeted in August at the AFS reception, the first activity sponsored by this year's Girls' Club. Other activities of the year included the Powder Puff basketball game and the contest for Mr. Irresistible.

Diane Knott discussed plans for Girls' Club with advisor Mrs. Spitzer.

Girls' Club trimmed the Christmas tree in East's cafeteria.

Boys' Club Stages Assemblies

The 1969-1970 Boys' Club Cabinet, headed by Jeff Coombe, worked to provide all boys at East High with interesting and varied activities. The club held assemblies in which experts demonstrated race cars and showed the techniques of judo. They also helped the Girls' Club in trimming the traditional Christmas tree to spread Christmas spirit at East High.

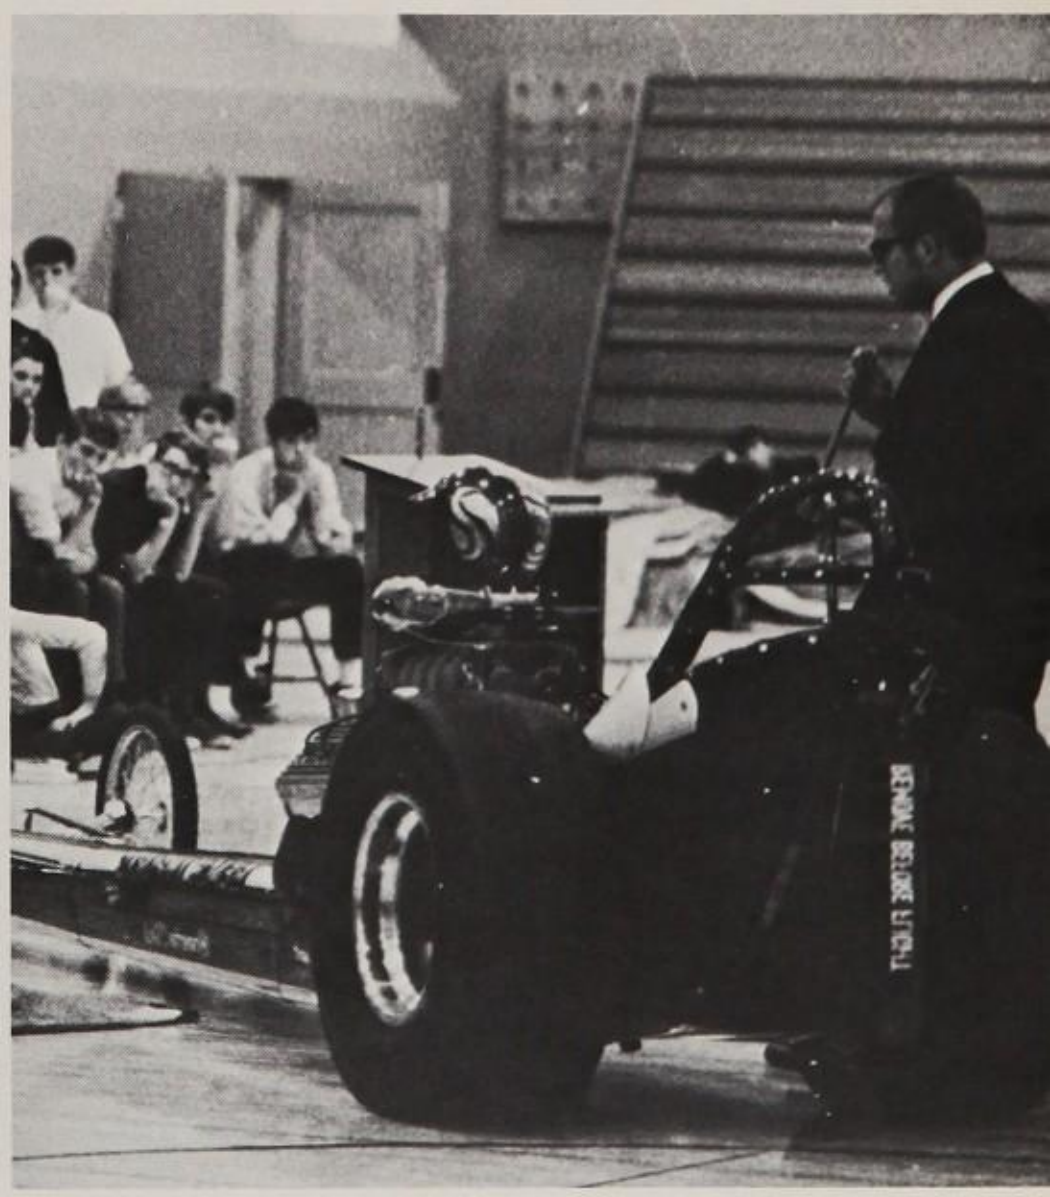
Mr. Peterson demonstrated race cars at a Boys' Club assembly.



Pep Club Encouraged Student

BELOW: Signs painted by the Pep Club, hanging in the cafeteria, exhibited the students' Knight Pride.

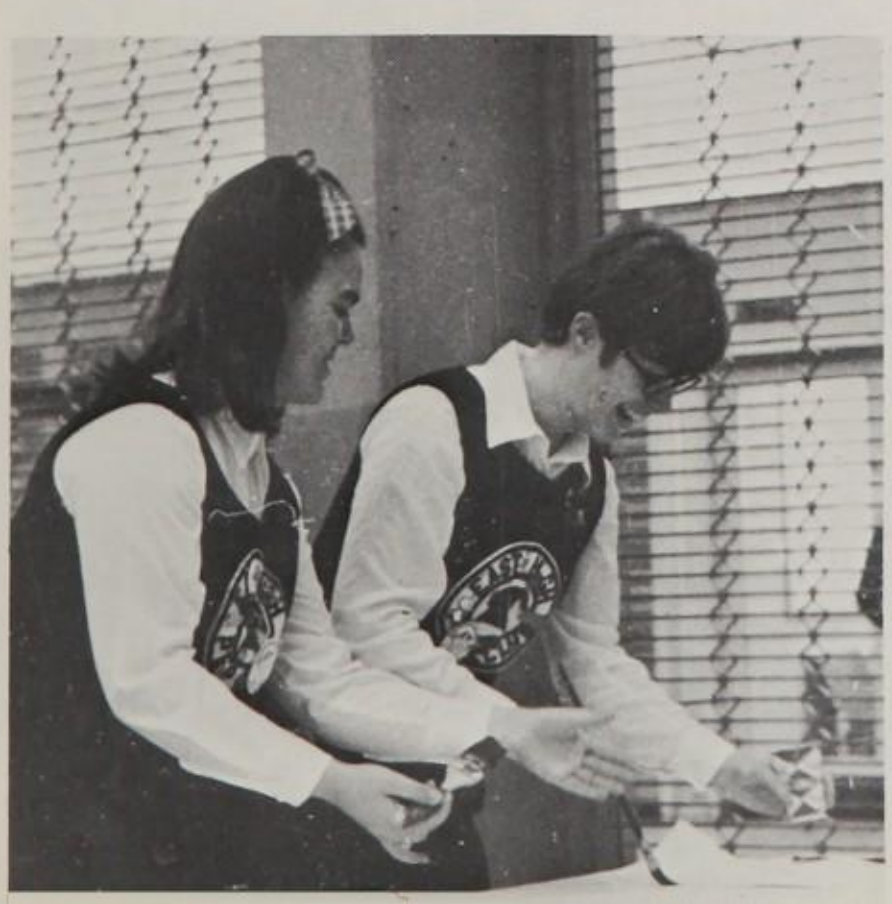
Body Participation

The East Pep Club enthusiastically cheered their Knights through the year of '69-'70. At every game the black and white uniforms could be seen among the spirited crowd. Their Knight Pride also radiated from the signs hanging daily in the cafeteria.



Deutschland Überalles

"Germany over all" was the motto of the German club this year, and they supported this statement by making it one of the most active language organizations. Under the direction of Miss Hess, the club planned a long list of activities such as selling programs at games and a trip to Vancouver, B.C..

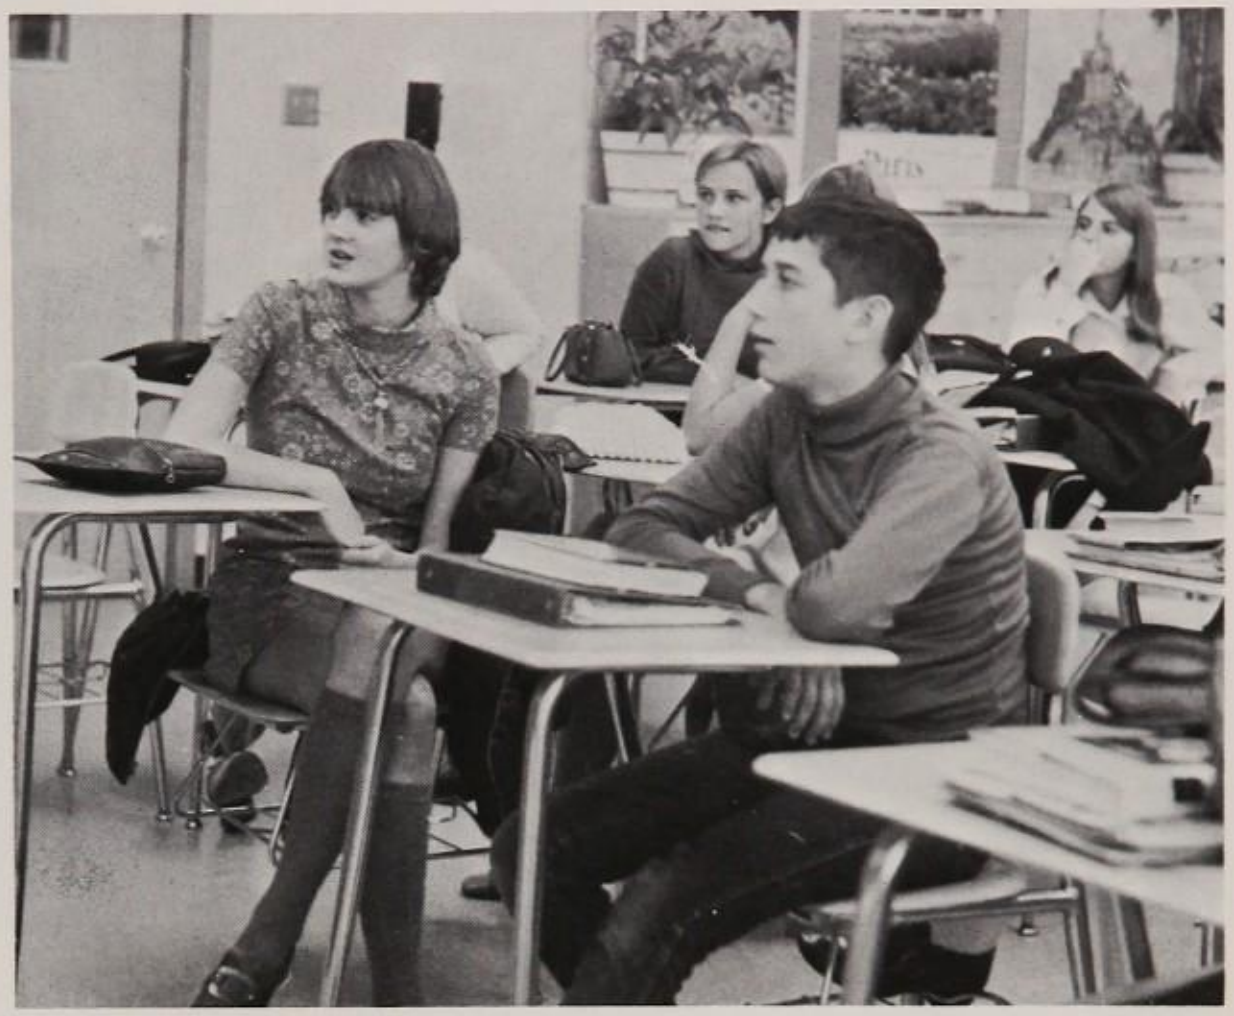
French Club Stages Skit

French Club made a fine showing at the language Christmas party this year, capturing first prize for their skit "The Growth Machine." As an effort to further understand French teenagers, French Club sent a tape to France telling about our school, town, and Christmas customs.

Michele Moulden appeared as "Spit" in the club skit at the Christmas party.



The members took an active interest in the club as they attended the meetings and functions.

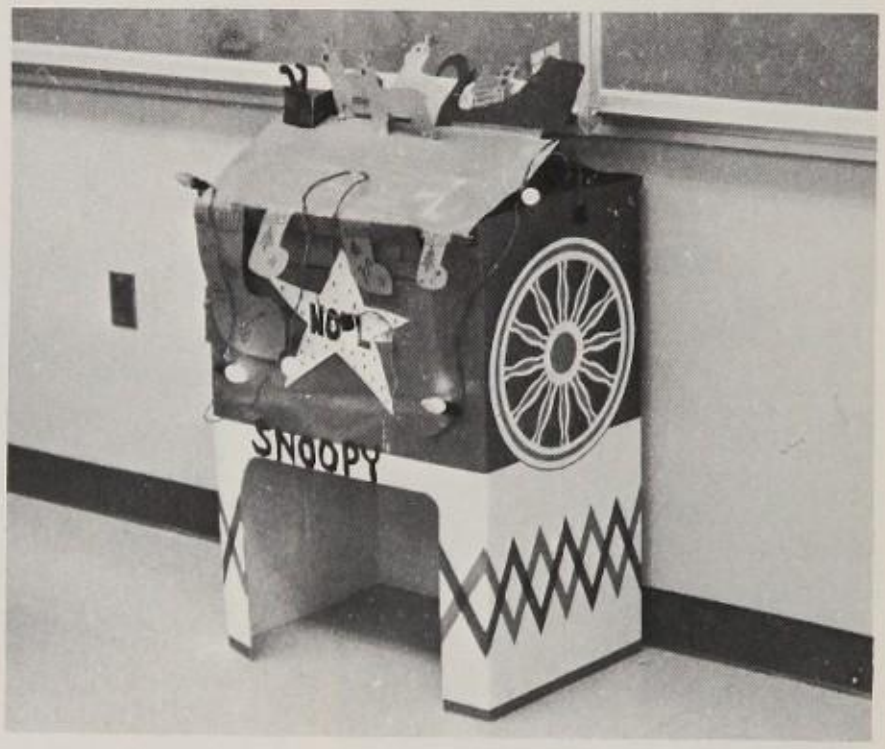
Spanish Club, advised by Miss Peggy Stemmons, had a successful year. Cotton candy sold at local stores and concessions sold at basketball games boosted the club's finances. The annual Christmas party, complete with skits and a pinata, was an important part of a successful and fun-filled year.



Snoopy's doghouse reflected the ingenuity of Spanish Club members in planning their skit for the Christmas party.

Latin Club Holds Initiation

This year new Latin Club members were treated to an initiation at Filippi's Restaurant. While these members enjoyed their pizza dinner others traveled to the state convention. Additonal activities held throughout the year included the annual Roman Banquet.

Russian Club Begins Second Year

Russian Club began its second year with Mr. Bratonia as advisor. A Halloween candy sale was the beginning of a series of money-raising projects. Participation in the club increased with a new year. Members developed an understanding of Russia and its people.

Frosh Naive, but Display Motivation

The Freshmen explored the new world of senior high with the courage of young knights. Frosh Pep Club, under the supervision of Mrs. Spitzer, cheered their freshman athletes to many victories. Their first high school year was started off with a large treasury.

FHA Duties Grow and Roles Expand

In the early morning light, Future Homemaker members were dragged from their beds and, clad only in night-clothes, partook of a hearty but drowsy breakfast. Sales held to finance FHA's outings were under Mrs. Anne Ducker's helpful direction.

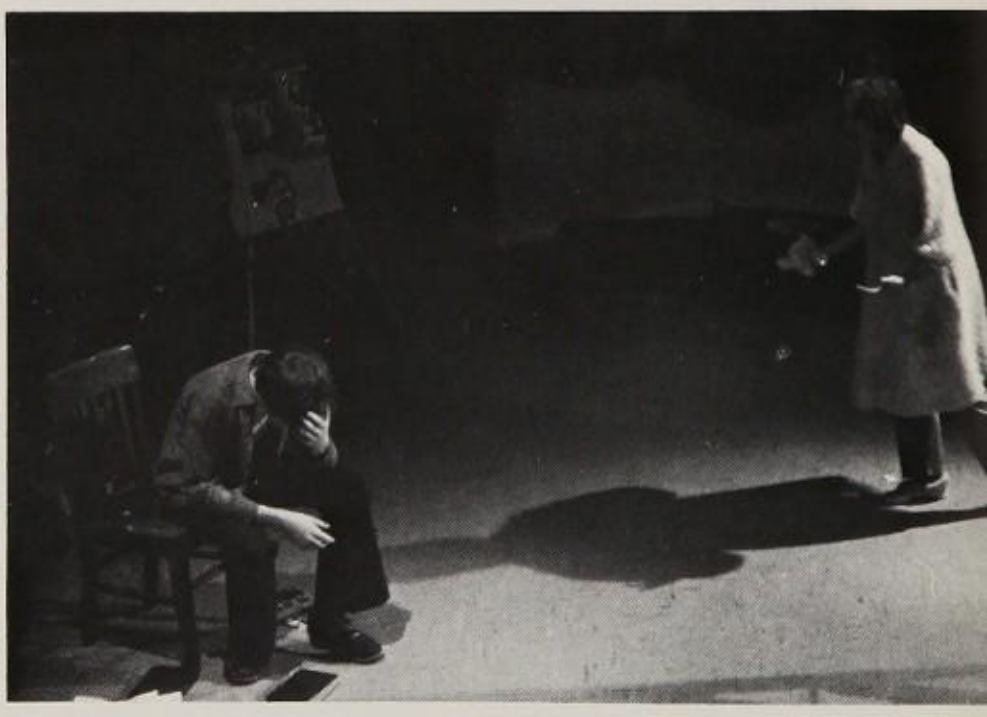
Drama Club Presents Three One-Act Plays

East High Players presented three one-act plays on December 4th, 5th and 8th in the East High band room. The stage was set and prepared by the Drama Club members and the band room became a theater in the round. Lights were donated by Olympic College Drama Department. A furniture box became a computer and the plays were rehearsed daily. Mrs. Penny Pertner, affectionately known as Jane, directed with a practiced air. Drama Club in its second year at East has become a tradition.



Jack Wolfrom, Jonna Gilyeat, Michelle Rodgers, Richard Hatfield and Dave Henderson emoted in "Three Cornered Triangle".

Mimes Sally Moss and Shar Osborne tugged gleefully at the scenery as they changed sets.

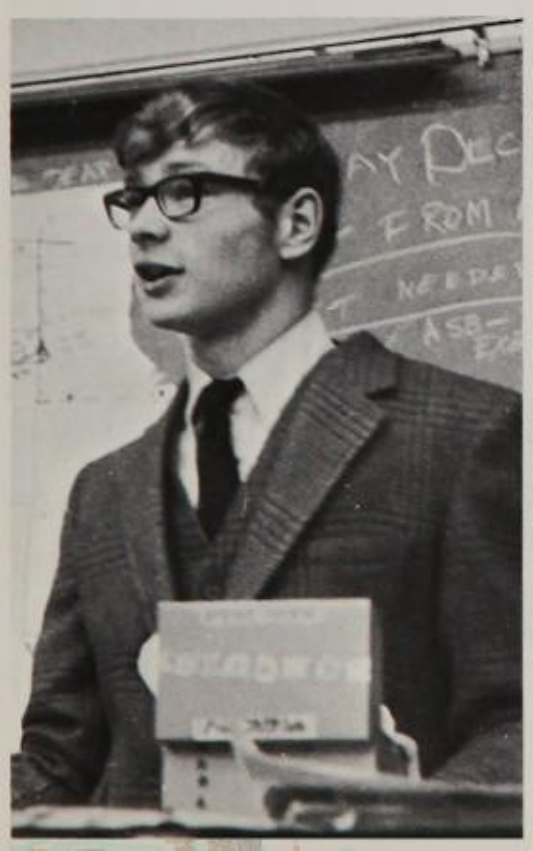
Debaters Learn to Contrast Opposing Views

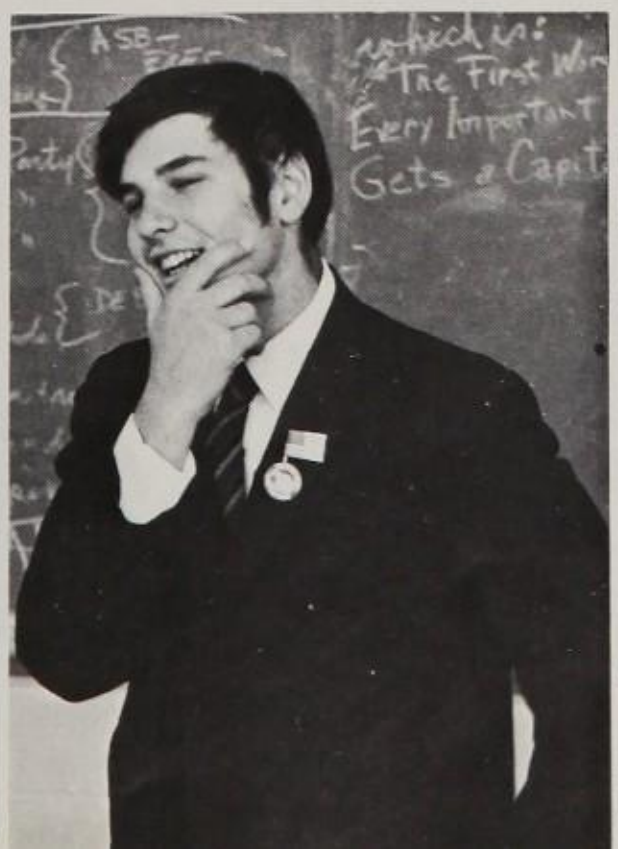
Debaters of the 69-70 season argued many moot points in the league and tournament meets they attended. Debaters opened the year with a trip to the Student Congress at Pacific Lutheran University coming out fifth among many other high schools. Sheldon Parr took a Certificate of Excellence from the Student Congress. This was the second year East attended.

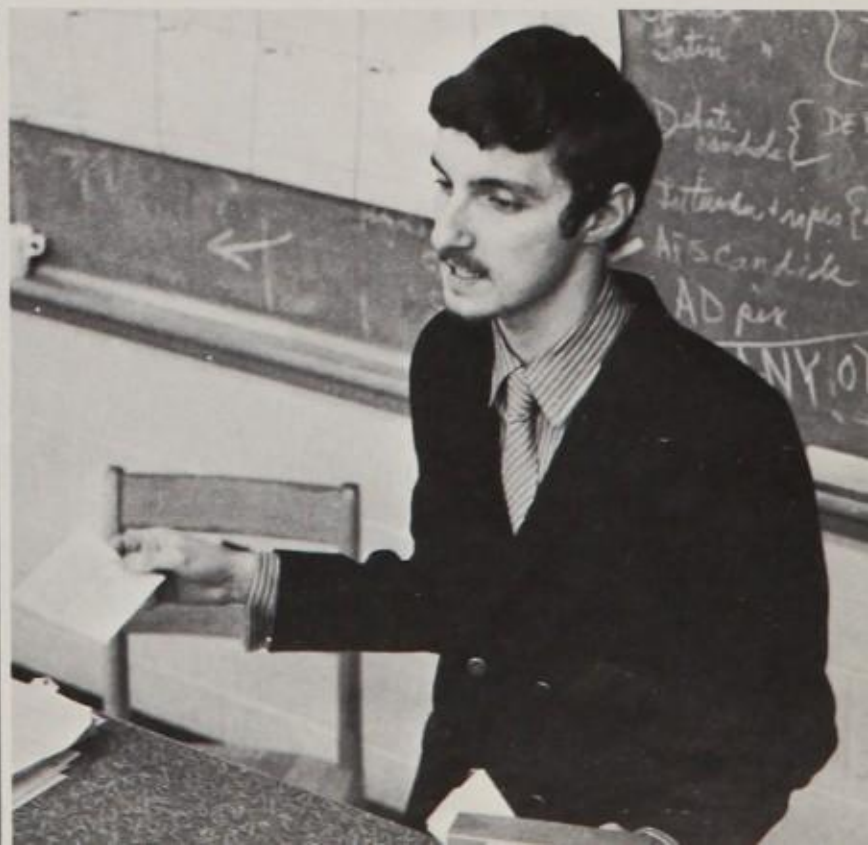
Seven league meets followed with East coming out ahead in many of them. The Jamboree was held at East on October 30th. December 19th-20th the debate team traveled to Lacy to St. Martin's for a tournament with high schools from all over the state. They spent the night in Olympia and took in the night sights of that city. The gift of reasonable discussion was proved to be alive at East this year.

Dave Morgan, Mike Croswaite, and Dick Sage scurried to crowd into the second carry-all.

Tom Laurie, Mike Croswaite, and Sheldon Parr demonstrated proper debating stance.







Lettermen's Club Serves School

Twenty-eight young men made up the Lettermen's Club this past year. The only requirement to join the club was that the person have a varsity letter. The Lettermen's Club sponsored two main events; they were the alumni game and the varsity review. Under the advisors, Mr. Les Eathrone and Mr. Ted Berney, the lettermen served the school by holding ropes at assemblies to keep students off the gym floor.

Ski Club Has Another Big Year

The Ski Club, again one of the largest, took many trips to the mountains including one during Christmas vacation. Under the new advisor Mrs. Karen Gary and the new President Chuck Stone the club sponsored an after-the-game dance, which made a large amount of money for the club fund.

Ladies Win Honors for East

The girl who participates in G.A.A., Girls' Athletic Association, is not the muscle-bound fullback, as many people believe. To the contrary, she is merely an average girl who finds relaxation and enjoyment in sports. Though she may pitch a baseball in a wide awkward circle, her enthusiasm more than makes up for the lack of coordination. It is this that drives the girls' intramural program to success. The G.A.A. does not stress the competition as much as the beneficial results in health and personal development. For the G.A.A. stands also for the creation and growth of those social qualities essential for the blossoming of the girl into a young lady, well-versed in a broad range of subjects.

G.A.A. Introduces Girls' Varsity Sports

Through the introduction of girl's varsity sports by the G.A.A., East High has been able to save its athletic face. Where the Knights have faltered in football and basketball; the Ladies have triumphed in volleyball, tennis, track, badminton, bowling, and archery to place high in League and district competition.

BSU Promotes Better Relations

Black Student Union dedicated itself to the promotion of better black-white relations. President Larry MCoy led the club with insight and awareness to the problems evident at East High. He served often as the mediator between the administration, teachers and black students. Since the ratification of their club Constitution last year, the BSU has become a positive force at East High.

Members Gain Political Understanding

East High's Political Science Club, led by advisor Mr. Orvin Olsen, attended the Model United Nations Assembly at Central Washington State College. New understanding of politics was gained by members.

Other projects included selling refreshments at football and basketball games.

Science Club Holds S.S.T. Competition

East High Science Club member experimented with many areas of science and fun. Led by advisor Mr. William Trezise, the club declared its purpose to be to interest people in science and scientific methods. The club sponsored many projects such as after-school snow cone sales, demonstrations of scientific phenomena, and a Heavier than Air Fair.

Mark Bedilion and Frank Smith presided over a Science Club meeting.

Jim Richstein, Mark Bedilion, and Paul Allen worked over an experiment for a science demonstration.

Meetings were held to plan and discuss various activities available for Title I members.

Title I Offers Enjoyment and Experience

This was Title I's second year at East. This group began as an experimental summer school in 1967. In the summer Title I includes Dewey, Coontz, East and West students, but these groups become independent during the school year.

Members developed varied skills by student teaching, producing original plays, and viewing others' works. The club went to Seattle to see the Sonics play basketball, and also to the Seattle Center Opera House to the musical, Man of La Mancha.

An aerial tour of Puget Sound was taken during the summer.

Knightimes Is Saved

The journalism class under the supervison of their new advisor, Miss Linda Hoder, exprienced a very trying year. Because of extremely limited funds and rising prices for printing, it was possible for the staff to produce only a few issues of the newspaper the first quarter. At a House of Representatives meeting a decision was made to give Knightimes the needed funds to keep up production. The staff did an excellent job the rest of the year by keeping the student body well informed.

Editor Russ Ranger and Production Manager Sue Steinman spent several hours proofreading all material to be printed.

Work Help to Create a Unique Annual

To an outsider, the one word that might describe the scene of the yearbook staff striving to meet a deadline would be "chaos." But actually it involved 32 hard-working staff members and one dedicated advisor helping one another to the end. One marked change this year was student photography. This came about through the gain of five cameras, much photographic equipment, and a darkroom.

Jeanette Forbes used her skills learned in D.E. for a job at Dr. Ulbrights office.

Strict classroom attention was required in Distributive Ed.

Distributive Education Has an

The "Revendedors," as the Distributive Education Club was called, was designed to develop a respect for education in marketing and distribution which will contribute to occupational competence, and to promote understanding and appreciation for the responsibilities of citizenship in our free competitive enterprise system. Some of the projects D.E. took on were a student body survey, marketing trips to Seattle, and a state leadership conference in Yakima. There, D.E. students from all over the state competed with one another in eleven marketing skills. There also was an employer-employee banquet. Some of the money-making projects taken on by the Distributive Education class included selling cloth calendars, Fanny Farmer Candy and makeup at Christmas time.

Perfection in Their Many Performances

Time, patience, and a flashy smile were all efforts displayed by the thirty members of the East High drill team. A ten-minute performance often required as many as ten hours of rehearsal. This included seven o'clock practices and the struggling with the perfection of new routines. As last year, during basketball season the uniforms were changed. Bright red corduroy outfits brightened the gym as the drill team performed during halftime under the direction of Mr. John Brown.

Practicing in a circular formation for the East-North halftime show, the drill team members did a routine to the song "Platter Party".

Orchestra Tied Up in Strings

Long hours of dedicated practice were reflected in the performances of the orchestra this year. At the Christmas Concert and at the programs held in the spring, the orchestra displayed the results of their rehearsal efforts. Under the direction of Mr. Frank Stark, the instrumentalists strove for coordination as a group to produce fine tone quality.

Student Life is

The students' life at East High School encompassed a wide variety of activities. However, most of the students' time was spent in classrooms, the library and in generally pursuing an academic career. Though many found studies sufficient to fill their time, some became bored and dissatisfied with their lives some were engrossed, others were easily sidetracked.

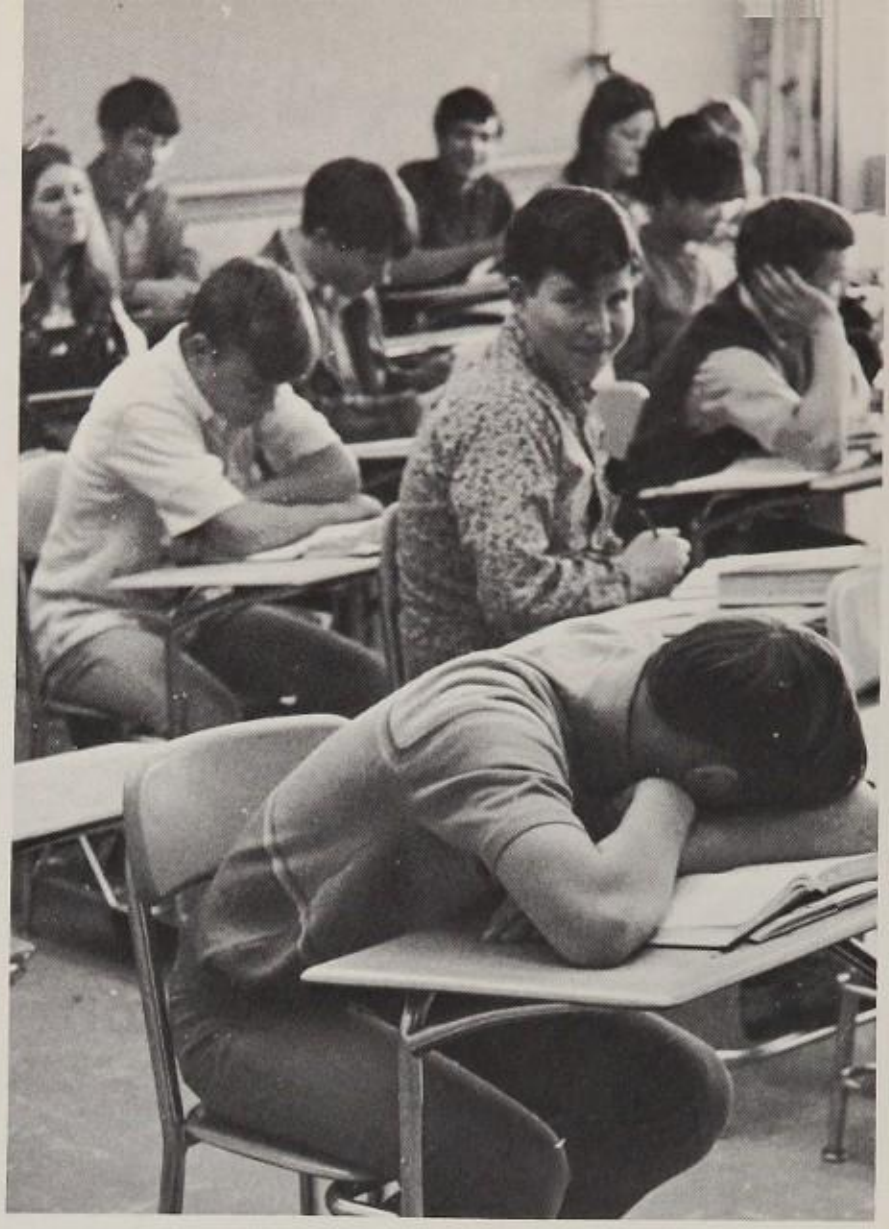
Even though an educational atmosphere prevailed some students used the library for relaxation and quiet conversation.



Sometimes the class was just too long and the material too short.

FTA Prepares for Teaching Careers

AFS Seeks $1900

Because of the rise in cost of the Americans Abroad program, the A.F.S. chapter at East began planning money-making projects before school started. A.F.S. president Kathy Clinton instigated many new projects, including a picnic that introduced the foreign students to American eating and football. Travel Night was also sponsored by the club this year. The penny drive and a "walk" for A.F.S. were supported by students and local merchants. During A.F.S. week many students became acquainted with the customs of many countries through the Food Fair and classroom discussions.

Assembly, Bonfire Lead to Coronation

The Class of '70's Homecoming Week was one of tradition and of broken tradition. It was a week in which "Knight Pride" grew and even materialized into the form of our Knight on a white horse. It was a time in which we worked together to organize an assembly, bonfire, parade, coronation, and dance. It was a week that culminated in the coronation at football halftime, which broke tradition but built up excitement and stimulated a special closeness among everyone at the game.

Seniors Lead Team in Victory And Defeat

Although small in size and rated a thirty-point underdog, the Knights of East High went fired up into the traditional East-West football game. Behind in the first quarter by seven, East fought back and tied the score going into the locker-room at halftime. Coming back in the third-quarter, West scored first, but missed at their attempt for the extra-point. East took advantage and went ahead fourteen to thirteen. In the last forty-seconds of the game, West squeezed in a touchdown to deflate East's valiant effort for a stunning upset over the highly-rated Wildcats. Throughout the game the spirit of the team and fans never ceased. East should be proud of their team for their tremendous showing against West.

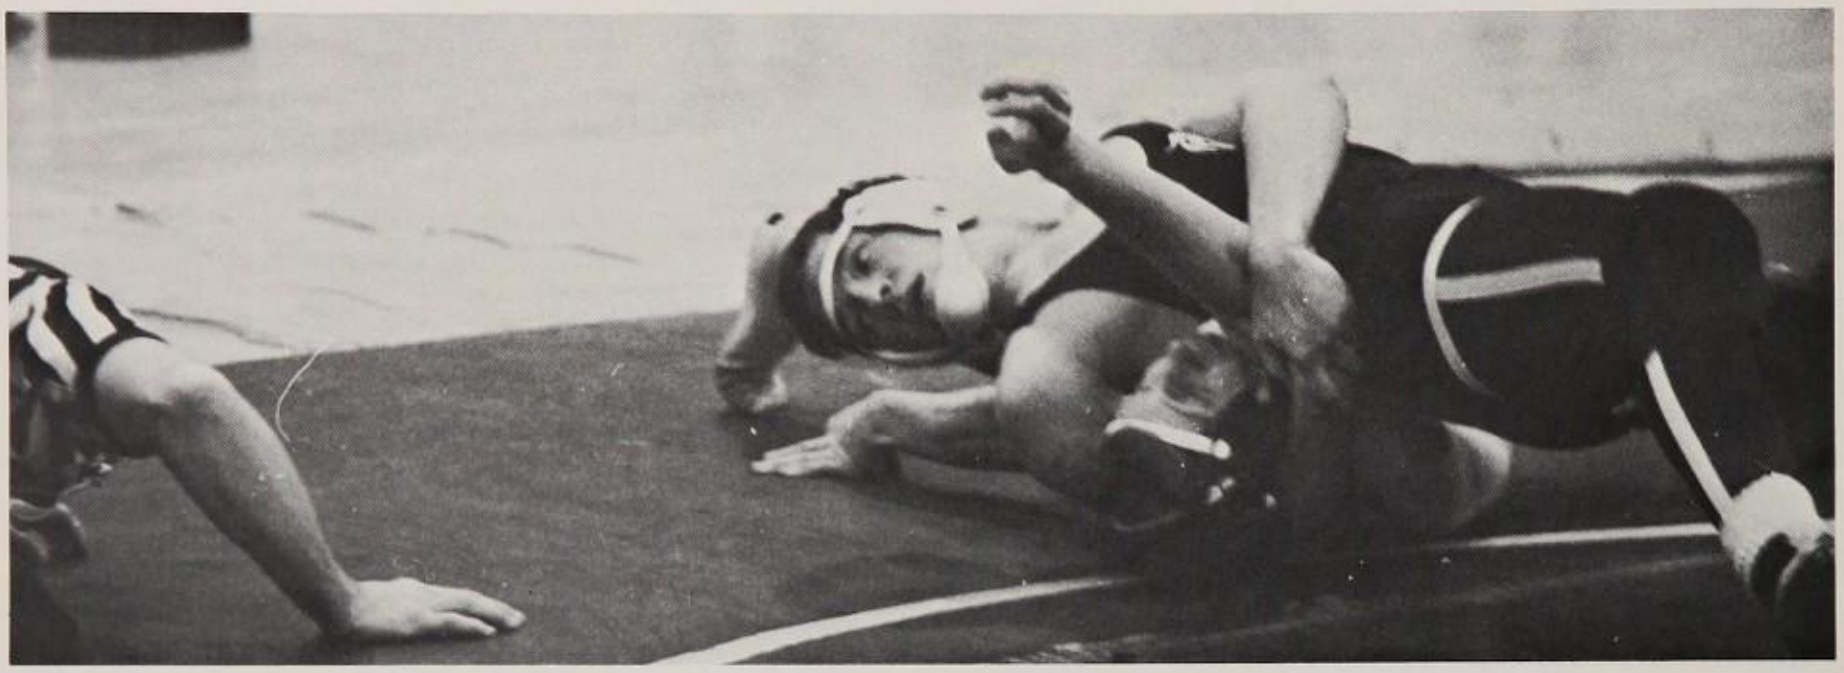
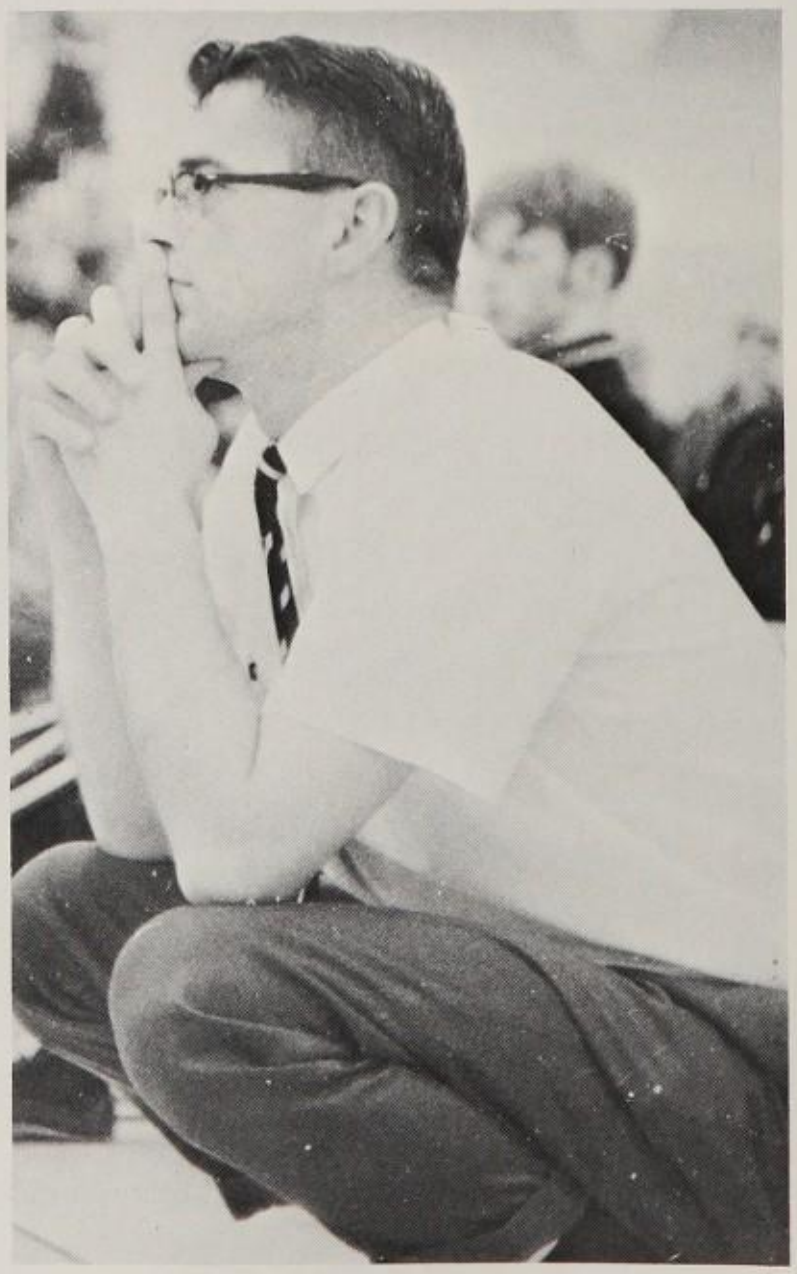
East Wrestlers Set an Impressive Record

Under the coaching of Mr. Stelson and Mr. Baker, the Knight's varsity wrestling team emerged with an eleven-win, four-loss record. Although the Knights were led by strong senior wrestlers, the team consisted of a majority of talented junior grapplers. The highlight of the season came when East rose victorious over the cross-town rival West High.

BELOW: Bill Buhl waited for the referee to call a pin.



LEFT: Cheer and Song leaders led fans in the fight song as the varsity wrestlers warm up. BELOW: Mr. Stelson concentrated on the moves of one of his wrestlers.



Effort and Skill Earn Success for Knights

Long hard workouts every afternoon and the utilization of such holds as the whizzer, grapevine, and shoulder roll turned out a fine wrestling team. The team subjected themselves to strict diets so that they could make their respective weight class and represent East on the mats.

Japanese Visit East on Cultural Exchange

This year East was proud to have hosted the Japanese National Champion Amateur wrestlers as a part of the Japanese Cultural Exchange Program. National champion wrestlers from throughout Japan were chosen to wrestle top grapplers throughout Washington. The Japanese, headed by Coach Yoshio Hosono, arrived at East High in January. An assembly was held and the Japanese and Olympic League representatives exchanged gifts as a token of friendship. That evening the Japanese wrestlers defeated the Olympic wrestlers 27-2. Coaches Jim Stelson and Les Eathorne worked hard to make this program possible.

Intramurals Stress Activity and Desire

At the crack of dawn every winter a group of boys got up to compete in the intramural basketball program. They might not have been of varsity caliber or the best shots in school, but every morning they were out on the court running and hustling for their teams, with a compelling desire to win.

Straight County Championship

For the fourth straight year, Coach Ron Vehr's Cross Country team captured the Olympic League title. Although hurt by graduation, the East High Cross Country team again proved to be a powerhouse and ably defended its title. Led by captain Gene Jarstad and inspirational winner Daryl Shruhl, the team placed third in the West Central District Meet and twelfth at the State Cross Country Meet.

Triumphant team received awards at State Meet.

ACADEMICS

Better Student Faculty by East High

This year, repeated efforts were made by the East High administration to establish better relations with the student body. Communication was accomplished through the "lunch-bag forums" attended by Principal Dwight Scheyer, Vice Principal Terry Lindquist and students interested in voicing their opinions on school policy.

Considering student views expressed in the forums and the student-faculty committee, the administration continued efforts to improve curriuclum, teaching methods, rules concerning dress and conduct, and student government.

Relations Established Administrators

East's school administrators also scheduled a "Day of Dialogue" during which normal class activities were discarded so that students and their teachers could discuss student-faculty relationships, graduation requirements, and the goals of education at East High.

This year's only new member of the administration was Mrs. Corinne Spitzer. Mrs. Spitzer, former girls' counselor at George Dewey Jr. High, replaced Mrs. Maxine Sorenson as an advisor to the freshman and junior classes.

Counselor Gordon Berry jokingly stresses the importance of studying to honor student Steve Ladd.

Programs Enrich English

This year, the English Department was benefitted by the experience of past teachers as well as by innovations from new ones. The honors program continued, as in past years, to enrich studies. This year, in addition to the honors combo class, a second class that combined social studies and English was formed. Field trips were taken to see films and plays pertaining to English subjects.

The Language Department, led this year by Miss Hess, was enlivened by the various classes declaring war upon each other. The rooms engaged in an all-out war involving volleyball games and many ingenious "invasions" of the different classrooms. Students found foreign language knowledge was valuable in their attempt to break the language barrier.

As seen here, the Frito Banditos Linda Relano, Cary Jacobsen, and Leslie Christensen prepared to strike once again.

Mrs. Charlotte Luz, Mrs. Marion Alford, and Mrs. Frances Swanson joined forces to make the library a reliable resource center.

Students Find Library Open at Night

This year, with Mr. Roy Meyer assisting, the library was opened on Monday and Wednesday nights. Students or interested adults found they now had time to use the library in the evenings for research or relaxation. From a small turnout, library attendance increased. Mrs. Alford, a new staff addition, helped to increase library efficiency.

Student Connie Bartlett and teacher Mrs. Justin alike find illumination, reflections, and enlightenment in the library.

Besides use for quietly studying, the library was utilized for socializing, quiet contemplation, or last minute homework.

Students Confront

With an emphasis on the present and a study of the past to understand it, the students learned to meet the challenges of a changing world. Besides required social studies classes there were social studies electives. These were Afro-American History and a new course, The Far East and the Modern World. Afro is a course which introduces students to Negro heritage, the part the black play in history, and contemporary problems. Far East is a study of China, Japan, Southeast Asia, and Korea.

CLASSES

"Fortune Favors the Brave"

Seniors of '70 found it hard to believe that their careers at East High School were rapidly drawing to a close. Led by Mr. Stelson, their third advisor in four years, the class members staggered through a barrage of college applications, senior fines, announcements, and measurements for caps and gowns. Bob Farmer assumed the helm as class president and Bob Fojtik took over as vice-president. Taking a bold stance in school affairs the iconoclastic seniors broke with traditional Homecoming rituals by holding the coronation during halftime. Although changes were not always welcomed, seniors did their best to initiate them. The Senior Ball was held in the spring with the theme of "Knights in White Satin." Finally, Commencement night arrived. Seniors received their diplomas and departed to their futures.

Class of '71 Shows Enthusiasm

Juniors swung into the fall season with renewed vigor to achieve their goals of making money and achieving class unity. As upperclassmen, Juniors became increasingly involved in interschool government and activities.

With their new advisor Mr. Bennett at the helm, Jim Trostad, Steve Ladd, Rose Jimenez, and Linda Relano guided their class over the rough waters to plan a Junior Prom, a car wash and several other projects.

The theme for their Junior Prom was "A Time for Us". It was held in the school cafeteria with the West High Stage Band swinging out in fine style. "A Time for Us" was held on November 22. The only fall formal affair, it was attended by many students.

In late September and early October, the Juniors received their class and school rings. Juniors showed school spirit in Pep Assemblies when they won the Spirit Trophy several times.

Freshmen Cross the Castle Drawbridge

After the annual Freshman Day had passed, the class of 1973 enthusiastically became an integral part of East High. The frosh, led by their class advisor Mr. Clark, worked diligently on car washes, raffles, and bake sales to obtain money for use in later years.

Industrious freshmen entered their class float, "Tiptoe Through the Clovers", in the homecoming float parade competition.

Freshman boys who turned out for sports provided East with a winning football team. Cheered on by the five freshman rally squad members and the Frosh Pep Club, they beat the West High Frosh.

Class officers were Doug Fry, Treasurer; Susan Michaels, Secretary; John Marks, Vice-President and Cliff McKenzie, President.

The Guy Is Only Doin' It for Some Doll

East and West students combined their talents and enthusiasm to produce "Guys and Dolls" as the biennial musical. It was the story of a Salvation Army sergeant and her efforts to "save the souls" of the gamblers and their dolls on Broadway. LEFT: The gamblers danced during a lull in the crap game. League Title

Rain, cold, and mud were not only a part of everyday workouts, but were also occasionally a part of the after-school dual track meets. The team and coaches put in long hours of hard work through all kinds of weather to win their fourth straight Olympic League title. Coached by Mr. Vehrs and Mr. Berney, the Knights won all seven of their dual meets and lost only one practice meet.

Led by nine sophomores, the East J.V. baseball team obtained another successful year under Coach Bob Batterman. In the process of highly contested game, the J.V.'s picked up valuable experience that will help them during their years on the varsity team. The J.V.'s played against teams from the Olympic and other leagues.

Coached by Alex Bennett, the freshman baseball team put together a near average year. The team, comprised of freshmen and eighth graders, a new addition this year, competed strongly in many games, and pulled an upset-victory over undefeated Marcus Whitman.

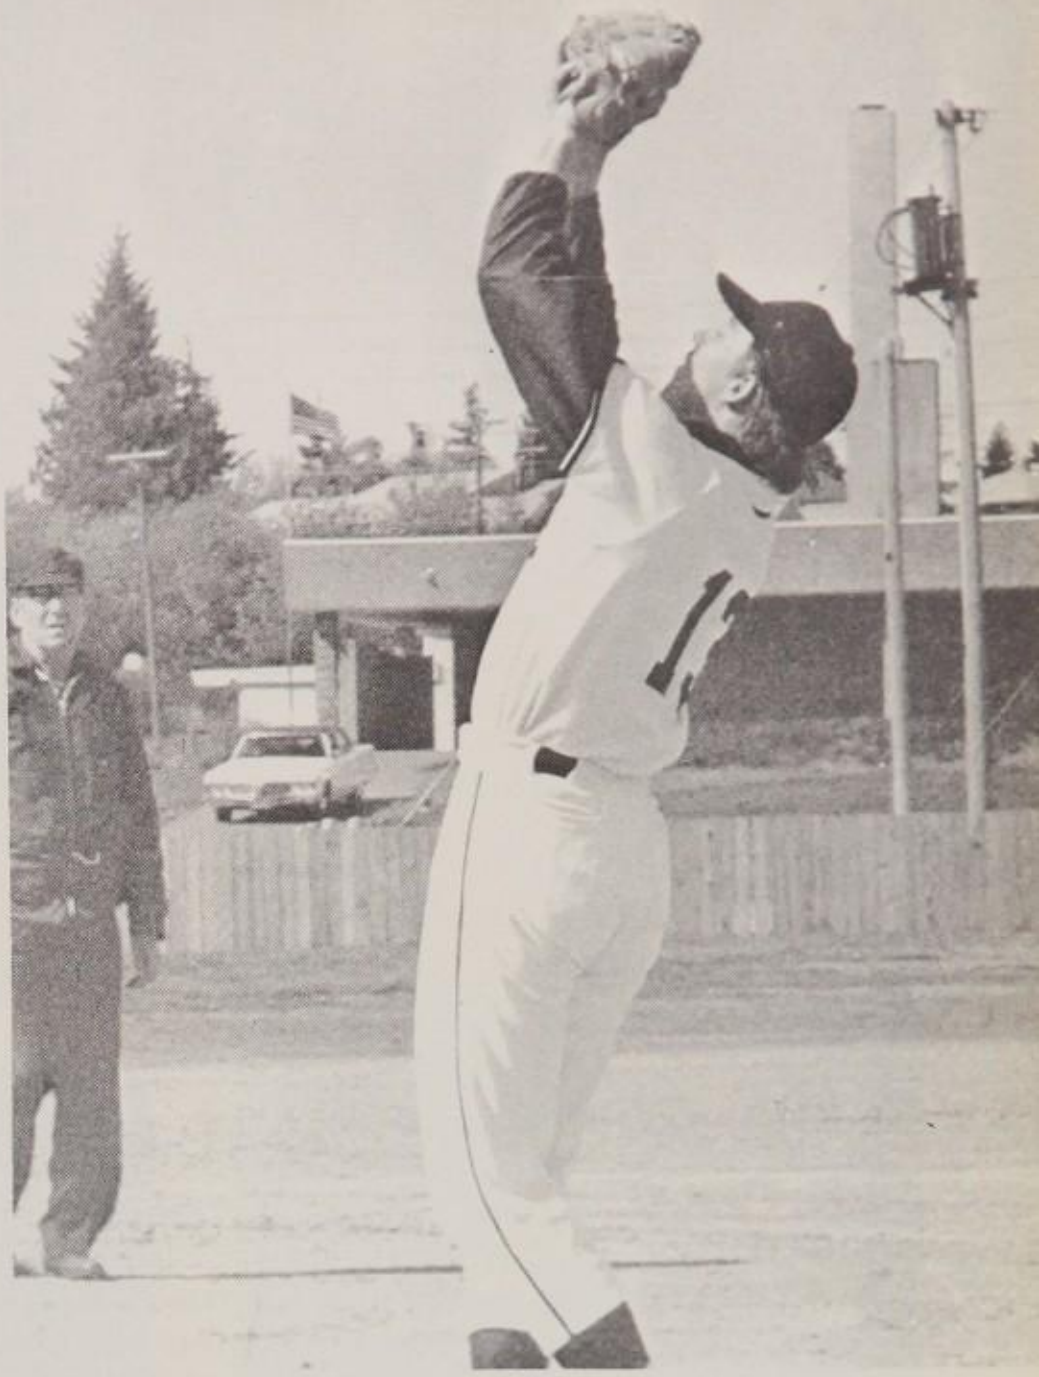
Swings Into Action

This year's baseball team concluded a successful season with an above-average record. A strong group of returning lettermen formed a nucleus around which the team was built. Good junior representation promised the fielding of an effective team next year. The spirited, hustling team was a credit to East both in victory and defeat.

Greg Albertson caught the ball, held his breath, and prepared to tag the opposition out at second.



Jim Morris looked up, closed his eyes, and hoped to find the ball in his mitt.

John Sutton proudly ran across home base.

Coach Dick Danubio and Miles Berry talked over strategy before a match.

Tennis Cops Titles

Led by unbeaten Eleanor Johnson and Ann Garrison, the East High girls' tennis team won the Olympic League championship for the second straight year. The girls contributed much hard work throughout the season. Third player Marianne Bergstrom and second doubles team Bonnie Drew and Barbara Wischhoefer helped with the team's success.

This season the boys' tennis team compiled a 16-3 record. They captured the League title for the third year in a row. Seniors formed the nucleus of the team with Marc Soriano, the number one singles player and Miles Berry holding down the number two position. In doubles, Miles Berry and Jim Johnson won the League title.

East Swings Through Season

With three returning lettermen, East's golf team boosted their record to 3 wins and 8 losses, beating North twice and South once. With a strong team effort they ended the season 7th place out of a possible 13 teams in the annual Hokenstad Memorial Tournament. Individual and team points are based on 3 points for a birdie, 2 for a par, and 1 for a bogie.

Steve Boyce executed the classic swing. He was the number one man by finishing with 270 points.

Number two man Gary Torgerson, totaling 257 pts. for the season, teed off on the first hole.

With a total of 229 pts., number three golfer Rich Roberts, showed fine form.

Number four man, Brad Sarver, helped the team with his 150 points.

Ken Drew putted his way to 115 pts. for the season. He ended up number five man.

Brenda
I guess if I didn't know Judy
I wouldn't have known you, but I'm glad we did. I hope we can get to be better friends. See you this summer.
Terri Shold

Brenda,
You are really a sweet girl.
Have fun this summer. Ruth Ann Arana

Brenda,

I don't know ya very well,
but I've been at your house because I know your sisters.
I think your kinda cute so be neat during your next 3 years.

Brenda,
I'm really glad you moved back from Utah because it gave me a chance to get to know ya. It's really been fun around and I hope you'll be my friend for a long time.
You're really cute and nice.
I hope I'll see you this summer.

Bus-partner,
Hope you had a fun & exciting year a lot of fun in my driving class. Have fun this summer
Cheryl

BRENDA,
I wish that you would of stayed in Bremerton for a whole year so that I could get to know you more. I really like what you did when you left and when you came back. I felt sad without me saying good-bye when you went to Utah and when you came back to say good-bye. I still remember when you went to the football field to say up to the football field to see a lot of you this summer and I want to get to know you more. Your real sweet and if you stay the way you are you'll always have friends. I just hope I'm one of those friends.
Love ya.
Dave Britsch

BRENDA
I'm sorry I didn't get to see you much this summer. I had a good time at the dive. Have a great year.
